

RE-ACT

Self-reflection Tools for Smart Universities Acting Regionally

IGNITION EVENT

The RE-ACT project aims at exploiting the potential of existing self-reflection tools, particularly HEInnovate, for the design and implementation of RIS3 (Research and Innovation Strategies for Smart Specialisation). HEInnovate for RIS3 will support Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) to rethink and reposition their strategies, structures and actions through a holistic approach to innovation and entrepreneurship, regionally embedded and supported by collaborative links among key actors of the quadruple helix.

The Ignition event aims at raising awareness of the project concept, the planned activities and the expected outcomes, presenting both its processes and benefits. However, its main goal is to present the new self-assessment tool developed by the partnership after performing an extensive research analysis and adding the views of the experts.
